- This is important tax information and is being furnished to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Please keep for your records.
- If you are required to file a return, a negligence penalty or other sanction may be imposed on you if this income is taxable and the IRS determines that it has not been reported.
- As required by the IRS, this form is divided into different sections based on the type of gain or loss (long-term or short-term) and whether the basis information is reported to the IRS. Please follow the section headings to locate the information you need for reporting on your tax return. Capital gain/loss is for your information only and will not be reported to the IRS.
